no agenda
no obligation
no need to be

smart
healthy
confident
successful
mature
kind
selfless

perfect

just be
within the wholeness of Me
who reveals just how whole
you can be

release the weight
of all the shoulds
and start exploring
the easy yoke
the burden that is
light

the hardship
for the sake of joy and glory not for the sake of approval or
salvation

what if
my mistakes
my failings

my limitations
my inability to
be God

is an invitation
to freedom
to embrace
of my own humanity
and reception
of Your abundant grace

rather than the mark I never reach the ways I fail to be the "little jesus" I thought You wanted

I was told that You wanted could it really be as simple as I dare to wonder?

could it be that
what you want
is the incomplete
imperfect
me

and that is enough
