

Art Prompts For Naomi

Use any of the following to lead you into a space of artistic interpretation. Whether it be through painting, making music, photography or otherwise.

In Naomi's lamenting she wrestles with her understanding of God. What does your understanding of God look like as you lament?

Naomi has a process of being empty and ending the story full. Are you being filled into or left empty?

Naomi is a great example of what lament looks like. What are you learning about your lament? What does lament look like to you?

Naomi seems incapable of taking initiative on her own but she has a community that supports her. How do you feel to be dependent upon your community?
